DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1,5, 11 are in the elected group.

Claims 2-4, 6-10 are cancelled.

Claims 12-15 are withdrawn.

The claims have been amended to limit the Ar to 2F18-pyridyl group.

Response to the argument;-

The rejection of the claims under 35 USC 103 over Tracey in view of Rogers and Phillip et al has been withdrawn, as applicants have amended the claims and have provided convincing arguments.

The rejection under 103a with a 102(e) date over Pomper however still stands. the reference clearly teaches the R to be a pyridyl, further it teaches in the preferred embodiment that it is a substituted by a radiolabel such as F18.

The reference has a common inventor and /or assignee.

Claim 12 clearly teaches a small group of preferred "R" groups such as phenyl, pyridinyl, See

R is phenyl, furyl, thienyl, pyridinyl, pyrimidinyl, pyrazinyl, imidazolyl, or oxazolyl, each of which is substituted with one or more substituents selected from formula IVa.

Applicants argument that the genus is large is incorrect.

, specific species with the phenyl and furyl are disclosed. A few other het's are also taught. Thus motivating a person to make other compounds with different het groups.

Applicants argument that there should be some teaching for a lead compound to be modified.

See Federal Register Sept 1, 2010.

It should be noted that the lead compound cases do not stand for the proposition that identification of a single lead compound is necessary in every obviousness rejection of a chemical compound. For example, one might envision a suggestion in the prior art to formulate a compound having certain structurally defined moieties, or moieties with certain properties. If a person of ordinary skill would have known how to synthesize such a compound, and the structural and/or functional result could reasonably have been predicted, then a prima facie case of obviousness of the claimed chemical compound might exist even without identification of a particular lead compound. As a second example, it could be possible to view a claimed compound as consisting of two known compounds attached via a chemical linker. The claimed compound might properly be found to have been obvious if there would have been a reason to link the two, if one of ordinary skill would have known how to do so, and if the resulting compound would have been the predictable result of the linkage procedure. Thus, Office personnel should recognize that in certain situations, it may be proper to reject a claimed chemical compound as obvious even without identifying a single lead compound."

In the instant case a small genus is taught and is not necessary to find a lead compound.

The rejection still stands.

The rejection under ODP over application number 12/321951 still stands as applicants have not provided a TD over it.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
